

Entrepreneurship

January 2025 (UPDATED)

For more information, contact:

Jennifer Richards, Associate Professor, Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education, and Communications

Lynne Middleton, State 4-H Curriculum Specialist, 4-H Youth Development, University of Tennessee

Becky Bowling, Extension Specialist, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics

Entrepreneurship

- Demonstrate legal standards related to businesses
- Create a flow diagram or other visual representation of the process for securing a business license and/or permit
- Compare and contrast LLCs and other common business structures
- Identify specific tax responsibilities of LLCs
- Demonstrate understanding for parts of an evaluation plan: outcomes and outputs, measurement of outcomes and outputs, data collection method, data collection time, data collection personnel, data storage, and use the results to improve plans

Discover

- Research the legalities of business standards
- Research the different types of business structures and determine which would best fit your project
- Explain why an evaluation plan is important
- Create a mission statement communicating the intended customer, targeted problem and potential benefits
- Explain the importance of a well-crafted mission statement

Build

- Craft an impactful mission statement
- Craft an impactful vision statement
- Develop a "pitch" for a given project
- Create a business plan
- Create an evaluation plan for a given project
- Create a project budget for a specific project

AG.TENNESSEE.EDU

Real. Life. Solutions.™

Programs in agriculture and natural resources, 4-H youth development, family and consumer sciences, and resource development. University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture and county governments cooperating. UT Extension provides equal opportunities in programs and employment.